MMFN Fitness Centre – Regular physical activity, even at a moderate level, reduces the risk of heart disease, cancer, high blood pressure and obesity. Overall, 65 percent of Canadians are considered obese. Although the risks associated with lack of physical activity are clear, we don’t appear interested in adding an extra hour of physical activity to our day. In 2017, nearly 26 percent of adults did not participate in any leisure-time physical activity. Let’s change that! Let’s get moving together.
